Accidents, Murders and Tragedies of Various Sorts Heard of All Around.

CORDELE, Ga., December 24.—[Special.]— James Freeman, the man who killed his wife and left her in the woods of Tattnall county, a few weeks ago, has been arrested near Cordele. This morning at 9 o'clock Deputy Sheriff Hodges, of Tattnall county, arrived here on the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery railroad. At half-past 12 o'clock this afternoon he left Cordele, and in four hours returned with Freeman as a prisoner.

Freeman was living on the turpentine farm of Mr. Isaiah Williams, six miles west of Cor-dele, under the name of Walker. He would probably have been there in the enjoyment of his liberty yet, had he not written a letter to a gentleman in Tattnall county who owed him a sum of money, and asked him to send it to him at this place. In answer to the letter Deputy Hodges came after him. A reward of $100 is offered for Freeman's arrest.

Freeman says that he killed his wife acci-

Two Tragedies on the Way. From parties who came in on the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery this morning at 9 o'clock, your correspondent learned that there were two shooting scrapes between Cordele and Abbeville this morning. At Rochelle a negro got off the train and was immediately shot and killed with a shotgun by a negro who was standing at the station. At Willford, a place ten miles from Cordele, while the train stood at the station, two negroes became involved in an altercation, in which one of them was shot but not killed. In both instances the negro who did the

The First Christmas Murder. LITHONIA, Ga., December 24.—[Special.]—George George was killed at Venable's mountain, near here, this evening by Harris McKinney. Both are colored. McKinney is in jail, and claims that the shooting was accidental, but the best information makes it murder, as the result of a Christmas drunk.

HE IS A GRIFFIN MURDERER, And Is Under Sentence of Death for His Crime.

GRIFFIN, Ga., December 24.—[Special.]—Information has been received here of the shooting of a negro near Meridian, Miss., Saturday, who is believed to be a negro who escaped from the score time along the score of the same transfer.

who is believed to be a negro who escaped from jail here some time since under sentence to be hanged for murder.

If reports of the affair are true he was shot for an attempted rape, and after being shot he gave his name as Thomas, stating that he was wanted at Griffin, Ga., for murder. It is believed her of Charley Thomas, a recomp negro wanted at Griffin, Ga., for murder. It is believed he is Charley Thomas, a young negro about twenty-five years old, smooth face, medium height, weight about one hundred and sixty, and, if it was, helywas wanted by the sheriff of this county to stretch a piece of hemp for the killing of young Will Mitchell some three years ago on the steps of the colored Baptist church here.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

John Echols Shot and Killed by Will

WALNUT GROVE, Ga., December, 24.—[Special.]—John Echols was shot and killed near Mr. Frank Kurt's farm, three miles from this place today about 12 o'clock. Coroner Taylor summoned a jury, and they rendered their verdict that "We, the jury, summoned and sworn to investigate the death of John Echols, colored, find according to the evidence that the said John Echols came to his death from one gunshot wound in the hands of one Will Guthrey, colored, and find Will Guthrey guilty of murder, Mose Ivey, colored, being accessory to the crime."

TWO LIVES WERE LOST.

And It Is Probable That a Third Will Go the Same Way.

GADSDEN, Ala., December 24.—[Special.]— News of a terrible accident, which occurred in St. Clair county last night about 10 o'clock, has just reached this city, in which two lives were lost and probably a third. Pink Franklin and son and John Canter-rry had been in Gadsden shopping, and left about dark for home. As they were nearing Hale mountain, which is near Greensport, in St. Clair county, twenty miles south of Gadsden, a terrible wind sprang up, when, without warning, a large tree standing near the road was uprooted and fell across the wagon, striking Pink Franklin and his grown on on the head, killing them instantly and also badly wounding John Canterberry on the head, from which it is feared he will die.

Lizzie Gunter Drowned.
GADSDEN, Ala., December 24.—[Special.]-Lizzle Gunter, colored, was drowned at the lower wharf in Coosa river this afternoon, about 4 o'clock. She was alone on a barge, which was partly submerged when she stepped and fell into the river, which was about fifteen feet deep. She fought desperately for life, while nttering piecely or river for help her while uttering piercing cries for help, but when help arrived it was too late, as she was sinking for the last time. She was about twenty years old and single. Her body has not yet been recovered.

ACCIDENT TO A CABLE CAR,

Caused by Horses Attached to a Beer Wagon

Becoming Frightened.

Pritsburg, Pa., December 24.—At 8:40 o'clock this morning a car on the Citizens, Traction Cable Railway collided with a heavy beer wagon at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Thirtieth street. The car was wrecked and the passengers fatally injured. The wagon was standing in front of a saloon and the driver was inside attending to business. The horses became frightened, and the wagon was swung around against the car, crushing in the side. All the other passengers were badly shaken up, cut and bruised. Six of them had to be taken home. Their injuries are serious, but not dangerous.

seriously injured. He then dragged his beautiful cousin from the house and outraged her repeatedly. His trial has been in progress during the week, he having been indicted on a charge of murder in the first degree and rape in the second, and the two cases on a charge of shooting with intent to kill.

The jury found him guilty in all four cases and he was sentenced to two terms of life imprisonment for murder and rape respectively, also two terms of eight and ten years for shooting with intent to kill.

Dunnaway received the verdict indifferently. While the people are very much disgusted with the verdict, there seems to be no danger of a mob. It is understood that the case will not be carried to the supreme court.

BUCHANAN'S CHRISTMAS BOXES,

Which Set Free Two Prisoners in the NASHVILLE, Tenn., December 24.—[Special.]—Pat Monahan, the hero of a sensational case in local court circles, after wearing the stripes for four years, is once more a free man. His liberty is due to executive clemency. Some time during the spring of the year 1887, Monahan found himself in the position of a rejected lover. Another man had weaned away the affections of his beautiful inamorato, Laura Carney. He went out one Sunday night and made a last frantic appeal for restoration. The girl intimated that she didn't care if she never saw him again. Monahan jerked out a pistol and tried to kill her. He then tried to show the same consideration for her mother. Both were injured. Monahan was tried, convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years.

Hunnicutt Gains His Freedom

Hunnicutt Gains His Freedom.

Governor Buchanan also pardoned William Hunnicutt, who was sent up for ten years in 1886 for killing a deputy United States marshal in Carter county. Hunnicutt will be remembered as the convict who prevented the escape of his fellow prisoners some time ago while mining. They dug through the side of the mountain and reached daylight. For several hours he stood guard at the hole and threatened to kill the first man who attempted to came out. His conduct on that occasion secured for him high favor with the officials, and, in conjunction with a petition signed numerously in East Tennessee and North Carolina, resulted in his pardon.

These Men Take Their Freedom.

These Men Take Their Freedom These Men Take Their Freedom.

For some weeks eighty-four convicts have been at work on the extension of the West Nashville railroad at night. They were housed in the pavilion at Cherokee park. This morning, when a guard awoke at 5:30 o'clock, he noticed that a door had been prised open, and on counting noses, he found that ten men had made their escape. They managed to get across the river, and nothing further has been heard from them. These are some of the men recaptured recently after being turned loose in east Tennessee.

SHOWED UP THE DETECTIVES.

They Filled a Young Man with Liquor and Extorted a Confession.

New Liseon, O., December 24.—William Canfield, the young man on trial here, charged with wrecking the limited express at East Palestine, O., in which several people were killed, some months ago, was acquitted this afternoon. Canfield was arrested at the instance of private detectives who charged that he confessed the crime. The young man was placed on the stand yesterday and admitted that the detectives, after filling him with liquor, forced him to say that he turned the switch, under threats of killing him. Sentiment was with the boy all throughout the trial, and the verdict gives general satisfaction.

THERE WAS A LITTLE PANIC On the New York Cotton Exchange-The Fluctuations.

New York, December 24.—The Sun's cotton article says: Futures opened steady, afterward slightly improved, then came a semipanic, under which prices rapidly declined, closing barely steady at 15 to 18 points decline from yesterday's final prices. The market, though showing some firmness, was humdrum enough till after 1 o'clock, then there was a slight advance, but this was regarded as proceeding wholly from covering contracts and the unwillingness of some to go home "short." Soon after 1 o'clock the crop estimate placed on the bulletin put the total estimate at 3,490,-Fluctuations.

IN SEARCH OF HIS SON.

A Baker County Planter's Search for the Prodigal.

COLUMBUS, Ga., December 24.-[Special.]-This afternoon an aged man, about seventy years old, arrived here from Newton, Baker county, giving his name as Benjamin Broome He stated that he was a planter, and had come here in search of his son, a young man, who disappeared from his home about three weeks since, after a terrible debauch, and whom he feared had committed suicide. He stated that he received several days ago a note, dated Columbus, December 20th, reading as

"Dear Father—When you read this I will be dead. I am not worthy to live and bear your name. Do not grieve at my sad demise.
"Albert Broome."

The boy is only twenty-two years old, but has been very dissipated for some time, and his father fears he has committed suicide. The matter has been put in the hands of the police, and every effort will be made to learn if the young man is here or what has become of him

Miss Juch in Birmingham.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., December 24.—[Special.]
The Emma Juch Grand Opera Company arrived by special irain of nine cars this afternoon, and appeared in "Cavalleria Rusticana" at the opera house tonight, to a crowded and more than well pleased audience. There are more than one hundred members in the company, and it is without doubt the finest and largest company ever in the south. Miss Juch herself was in magnificient voice, having entirely recovered from the cold contracted in Florida, and was a delight and revelation to her 1,500 auditors. MOBILE. Ala., December 24.-Three months ago Bob Sims, leader of the co-religionists in Choctaw county, all in the neighborhood of Womack Hill, was arrested for running an illicit distillery, which he claimed he had divine authority to run. Two of his brothers, fellow believers, rescued him, killing a by-stander and wounding a deputy in charge. One of the brothers was killed. Sims and the other brother escaped, and have been hunted for vigorously ever since.

Last night Bob Sims and his gang reappeared in Womack Hill and attacked the house of John McMillan, who has been a member of the pursuing posse. They set fire to the house and as McMillan and other in-mates rushed out the gang fired upon them. John McMillan and John Kennedy and several other persons were wounded. Lieutenant Langhorn left last night with a detachment bound for the scene of yesterday's fight. Captain Hardie with a squadron is also in the vicinity of Carries, though on this side of the river watching for a band which was to have crossed there, but found traces of but nine men, who, however, he was unable to capture. From Mier comes the report that on the Mexican side there have been three battles between the Garza forces and the Mexican troops—one at Tortillas, one at Bellicia and one at a point not named in the advices. The losses, if any, on either side are not known. All Mexican troops formerly in the vicinity of Mier are now in a field searching for Garza, whose whereabouts are still unknown.

Captain Bourke, in his report of the battle, praises three deputy marshals, Beaud, Perez and Bell, for gallant work in connection with the troops. Perez, with Private Lloyd, was captured by the revolutionists during the fight, but managed to get away. The latter suffered a slight wound in the knee. Edstrom, the dead trooper, was buried with military honors. He was shot in three places and either of the wounds alone would have been fatal.

Report of General Stanley.

General Stanley has forwarded to the war department the following telegram from Captain J. G. Bourke, Third cavalry, dated N. Fort Ringgold, Tex., December 22d:

Then, after giving the horses water and feed, and the men a cup of coffee, we pushed back to Retamel Springs, where we had found them, and we sent out two reconnoitering parties, which were attacked by the enemy in force. We had Corporal Edstrom, Troop E, Third cavalry, killed, and Second Lieutenant Charles Hayes, Eighteenth infantry, wounded slightly, after which our main body came up and the Garza outfit broke for the brush, scattering in every direction. We had no possible means of pursuit.

General Stanley also telegraphed under date of San Antonio, Tex., December 23d, that he will send two troops of cavalry from Fort Houston by rail to Fort McIntosh as soon as possible, one troop to march thence to Ringgold. He adds that Garza's band will be tried for murder, and that Captain Bourke de-city of Mexico, December 24.—A disrtict judge recently issued orders to the police and troops for closing four monasteries in Pueblo on the ground that the maintenance of these institutions is contrary to law. Upon carrying out the judge's orders today the people revolted and a fight between the people on one side and the police and soldiers on the other followed, during which one person was killed and four others were wounded.

This report is doubtless authentic, as it comes from an officer now on the ground.

TOPICS OF TRADE.

Review of the Week's Business by R. G. Dun

New York, December 24.—Business failures occurring throughout the country during the last Bix days, reported to R. G. Dun & Co., number for the United States 257, and for Canada 35, a total of the United States 257, and for Canada 35, a total of 292, as compared with a total of 335 last week and 320 the week previous to last. For the corresponding week of last year, the figures were 333, representing 303 failures in the United States and 30 in the Dominion of Canada.

The holiday trade is not always a just measure of the prosperity of the people, but it is satisfactory to know that at most points it is unusually large this year. It indicates that the people feel able to expend more liberally than usual, and it returns large outlays to the manufacturers of holiday goods. The general trade this season is unusually light, the merchants being engaged in taking stock, but at many points it is reported larger than usual, and even larger than last year.

Reports from the Citles. Reports from the Cities.

The volume of trade measured by the clearings at the various cities, outside of New York, was 6 percent more than last year for the first half of December, and later reports show an increase of about 9 per cent. vement of products continues extraordi-

The movement of products continues extraordinary.

Reports from other cities show less complaint as to collections, and a large trade in progress. At Baltimore trade in clothing, dry goods, and boots and shoes is good for the season. At Philadelphia, the jewelry trade is unusually busy, the grocery trade light, but equal to last year's. Trade in tea, coffee and sugar fairly active, and in chemicals quiet and steady; while tobacco, liquors and wool are quiet.

quiet and steady; while tobacco, liquors and wool are quiet.
Southern cities report less cheerfully than the others, the low price of cotton causing the dullness. The great industries close the year with more than the usual activity, even woolen mills having orders enough to keep them fairly employed, and a number have recently started, but none shut down. Cotton manufacturers find a good demand and numerous enlargements of plants are reported. Shoe factories complain that the usual orders are lacking, and yet they are fairly active. Paper mills are busy and making many additions of machinery and buildings.

The Iron Trade.

many additions of machinery and buildings.

The Iron Trade.

Iron manufacturers have been turning out more pig than ever before, though some works stop for the holidays, and the tone of the market is stronger, with rather more demand for finished products.

Speculation continues moderate, wheat having risen 1½ cents, with sales of 13,000,000 bushels, corn having declined I cent, and oats a fraction. Coffee, unchanged, oil ½ a cent higher, and pork unchanged.

Cotton Still Lower.

Cotton Still Lower.

Cotton has dropped a sixteenth below 8 cents, with receipts from the plantations exceeding last year's to date by 565,000 bales. The very large output of coal leads operators to expect lower prices. output of coal leads operators to expect lower prices.

The stock market has been stronger, with an advance of $1.25 for the week. New railroads built in 1891 cover 4,155 miles, making 171,000 in operation. Exports continue enormous for the three weeks of December from New York, exceeding last year 35 per cent, and remittances abroad having closed, foreign exchange heavy and declines to $4.834. The treasury has paid out $1,400,000 more money than it has taken in during the week, although receipts of internal revenue are large for the month—more than $3,200,000.

Money is plenty and cheap, and there is a general feeling that the favorable conditions will continue for some months.

Mr. Plumb was buried here today amid a great manifestation of sorrow.

After quiet had been somewhat restored, Redmond proposed the usual vote of thanks to the sheriff, to whom is entrusted the task of making the official return of the election. It is customary for the defeated candidate to second the vote of thanks, and Mr. Davitt did not fail in this duty. He took occasion to add, however, after seconding Redmond's motion, that he would rather lose the election than win by combined terrorism and rowdyism.

This remark provoked the most uproarious outburst of protest from the Parnellites, and for a time it looked as though the official canvass would end in a free fight.

which Has Settled Over England—Accidents Caused by It.

London, December 24.—The fog which settled over England and adjacent waters Tuesday has not lifted since that time, except temporarily and in spots. In London it is more dense today than at any previous time. It has caused a great loss to every kind of business, especially to those trades which are at their best in the holiday season. From the number of bodies found drowned in London waters, it appears that many people have lost their way in the fog and walked off docks and into canals and ponds. Seven bodies have been taken out of the Thames today. Accidental deaths on railways and upon ordinary roadways have also increased to a remarkable degree. As an illustration of how business is affected by the weather conditions prevailing, the opening of the stock exchange was greatly delayed this morning, owing to the density of the fog which filled the rooms.

Advices received from points in the eastern part of England show the fog prevalent along the whole length of the east coast. The captains of many vessels thought the safer course would be to make for some haven of refuge, there to lie until the fog lifted, but they found the greatest difficulty in making their ports. On the river Tyne the shipping industry is almost at a standstill, it being deemed too dangerous to send vessels of any description away from their wharves. Trains on the trunk lines in north England are greatly delayed by the fog. The Sword Bearers. News of the extent of the Parnellite victory had spread throughout the city, and the streets filled with people who were absolutely wild with the excitement of success. Crowds formed in line and paraded up and down the thoroughfares, relieving themselves by utter-ing wild huzzas, and in other ways showing their full appreciation of the political chas-tisement they had inflicted upon their opponents.

Some of the paraders had secured swords, and as they marched they brandished their naked weapons in an exceedingly careless manner, which struck terror into the hearts of the bystanders. As the sword bearers became particularly vehement, in pointing their exclamations with their blades, people near to them would dodge and withdraw to a safe distance.

It was not a good opportunity to advance the McCarthyite arguments, and Davitt was fortunate in not running afoul of the Parnellite processionists. Four hundred extra police are on duty in Waterford city, and there is no doubt that this force will be able to restrain the ebulitions of the victorious Parnellites within safe bounds.

Redmond Returns Thanks.

After the official canvass was concluded Redmond proceeded to the Parnellite committee rooms, where he returned thanks to the committeemen and electors for the great and successful work they had done in his behalf. He declared that the election in Waterford would be historic. The result had shed honor and luster on the city. It was sad, he said, that Mr. Parnell had not lived to see the glorious vindication given his policy by the electors of Waterford.

POPE LEO'S PROJECT

To Form an Institute of Economic Science

at Waterford.

Dublin, December 24.—Contrary to the general expectation, the election in Waterford city yesterday to fill the vacancy in the house of commons caused by the death of Mr. Richard Power, passed off without any serious disturbance of the peace. Both McCarthyites and Parnellites worked hard all day in the interests of their respective candidates, and, though there were many arguments over the doubtful voters, yet as a whole the election was remarkably quiet.

The McCarthyites were confident of victory, even going so far as to say how much their majority would be. The official announcement made this morning, however, shows they were over-confident and that the Parnellites have won a seat. This is the first election won by at Rome. Rome, December 24.—The pope has had several conferences with Signor Torniolo, professor of social science at the University of Pisa, on the subject of founding an institute of economic science at Rome, with the view of making it a center for the propagation of the ideas developed in the recent papal encyclical on the labor question.

HEARTLESS OFFICIALS Intercept Reports of Suffering from Reaching the Czar. London, December 24.—A letter has been received in this city from Moscow which declares that when the governors of the famine-stricken provinces submitted the most gloomy reports to the central famine committee as to the condition of affairs in those provinces, the committee refused to allow the reports to be sent to the czar, and insisted they should be modified before his majesty was allowed to see them. Acting under instructions, when the governors were given an audience by the czar, they told him that matters in their respective.

they told him that matters in their respective provinces were satisfactory and that the situation was improving.

Reports received from the provinces in which famine is prevalent, state that wheat it arriving from other provinces, and the people are becoming more hopeful.

LONDON, Ont., December 24.—At a public meeting held in Innorkin, Ont., last night a resolution was carried favoring political union with the United States as a means of bringing prosperity to the people of Canada.

Weather Forecast for Today.

Washington, December 24.—Georgia: Generally fair; southwest winds; stationary temperature, except slightly warmer in northern Georgia. Redmond's supporters were fairly wild with indignation at what they deemed an insult upon their leader and upon themselves. They yelled and hooted at Davitt, and some of the more hot-headed shook their fists in his face and threatened him with all sorts of dire punisherent.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

The Southern Express Company as Santa Claus.

HOW THE GOODS ARE PILED UP,

Which Are to Make Happy So Many Hearts and Homes—An Inside View.

No place in Atlanta has shown more stir and bustle over gladsome Christmas than the office of the Southern Express Company.

A brief visit there and a glance at the huge Christmas traffic will convince the most skep-tical that in Georgia, at least, the interest in Christmas, and the observance of its customs, is not waning.

Every nook and corner is piled high with packages and boxes. The visitor can hardly find standing room. The clerks chase about in a tantrum, calling off receipts, checking ship-ments and stumbling over a wilderness of holiday plunder.

It is a sight only seen at Christmas time. On the eve of that day when all men are pre-paring for a restful morrow—by all traditions the serene and peaceful Christmas—the ex-press agents and clerks are the very busiest of the whole year. They are literally up to their ears in work. There is more work to be done in four days than the force is able to do in a week, but somehow they get through

And there are but few mistakes, either. When the enormous stock of packages that passes through this office is considered, no one will wonder that their cakes were delayed a few hours, or that a Christmas bouquet withered before it was delivered.

Ever since Monday the rush has been fearful. The early part of the week the shipments were much in excess of the receipts. Then, of course, Atlantians were remembering their friends from Michigan remembering their friends from Michigan to Texas. They were experiencing that peace of heart which comes from giving.

On Monday heavy shipments of packages were sent to points north and west as far as Wisconsin. Tuesday the trade was all in the direction of New York. Wednesday Virginia was remembered and heavy burdens of Christmas freights were sent there. Thursday the shipments were mostly for points within the state—"nigger day," as the clerks call it, because of the terrible avalanche of small packages for short distances.

of the terrible avalanche of small packages for short distances.

While the shipping department was most crowded early in the week, the receiving department did the biggest business yesterday. Today the receipts will exceed the output of freight fully ten times. So Atlanta's blessing will not be gotten wholly from giving. The liberality of Christmas time, as it appears to the express officials, is nothing but a huge trade—the people of different places just exchange gifts.

Up till yesterday evening the shipping department had handled between ten and twelve thousand pieces of freight. By New Year's Day even more than that, likely, will have been received.

Day even more than that, likely, will have been received.

There were odd-looking packages at the office yesterday. Bundles, baskets, boxes, barrels, big, little, flat, thick, covered with paper and covered with cloth, tied with strings and ropes, or not tied at all.

The very way these bundles were gotten up indicated the different castes of society which had entered into this mad Christmas giving. All classes seem to be included. From the styles of the frieght and the directions on them, it was judged the negroes were included quite as frequently as white people. Out from the piles of plunder could be heard the constant "tirk, tirk" of the fat gobbler, the quack of the ducks, the hiss of the geese and the cackle and crow of chickens. Every tenth piece of freight was poultry, at a rugh guess. Most of these were to adorn holiday dinner tables, but a few choice lots of games and bantams were evidently presents games and bantams were evidently presents to keep. There were many braces of quail, ducks, squirrel, etc. A half dozen clean scraped hogs presented an uncanny appearance, dressed in white muslin, with noses and less pretraiding.

Two big flat-footed turtles came up from the

Two big flat-footed turtles came up from the coast and that means free soup at some lunch counter today. Two grayish-black patriarchal looking billy goats, with curved horns and heavy whiskers, came to gladden the heart of some West End youth. He will doubtless ride hereafter.

The students of all the colored universities and seminaries were abundantly remembered. Box after box of cake was addressed to them—you could tell they were cake, for some had burst open. One of the Clark university females got a great bunch of sugar cane—probably from her native canebrakes. ably from her native canebrakes Cocoanuts, bananas and at least a carload of cranges were in the stuff also. There were many pieces of furniture and little red wagons, and hobby-horses in profusion. An assortment of suspicious locking jugs, securely sealed and marked "Sam," never failed to attract attention from passers-by. They were very suggestive of Christmas jubilees, and none of them seemed to be cracked, either. There were occasional kegs of beer to keep them company.

Many single pieces of freight were seen where there were but few of a kind, such as guns, guitars, fiddles, umbrellas, walking sticks, baby buggies, cheeses, baskets of eggs and a multitude of unclassable articles too uniform and numerous to mention.

These all make additional work for the employes, it is true, but there will be thousands of hearts made happy in consequence.

It is quite evident, upon such, an inspection, that in these latter days Kris Kingle's famous over-house sleigh line is dividing the compares of Christmas with un redeemed a surface of Christmas with un redeemed a surface wages.

over-house sleigh line is dividing the com-merce of Christmas with our modern express companies very heavily. The Southern seems to do the bulk of the business, too.

MARRIED AND HAPPY.

The End of a Sensation-A Correction of an Unfortunate Mistake.

There was a marriage at Justice Manning's court yesterday afternoon which was the sequel to a sensation—it is hoped it may prove a happy one.

The groom was Mr, A. J. Henderson, of Chattanooga; the bride was Miss Julia Logan.
This lets Mr. Henderson out of jail, wipes out the charges against him, and gives him a beautiful girl for his bride. Mr. and Mrs, Henderson will make their home in Chattanooga.

Henderson win make their nome in Charles nooga.

In this connection a correction of an unfortunate mistake is in order. In former publications concerning this affair, the name of the young woman in the case has been given as Julia Wells. This was done by the friends of Miss Logan, who desired to shield her as much as possible, but unfortunately they selected the name of at least one charming young

THE GERM, THEORY

IS THE THEORY, THAT ALL ENDEMIC, EPIDEMIC, AND CONTAGIOUS DISEASES, are produced by minute infecting germs or microbes, peculiar to each disease, which enter the system as mentioned in our Treatise, page 12, under the heading "WHAT IS BLOOD POISON?" Recent experiments show this to be a fact, and that the true way to rid the system of disease is to force out these microbes or germs rid the system of disease is to force out these microbes or germs through the pores of the skin, does this in the most effectual manner, by changing the character of the blood, so that the poisonous germs cannot exist in it; they are therefore forced out. S. S. S. not only forces out the microbes, but also the poison—both coming out through the pores of the skin; or if there should be a sore or ulcer the poison comes out through it. S. S. Is entirely vegetable, is absolutely harmless, and builds up the general health, instead of depleting, as is the case with mercury and potash mixtures.

Atlanta lady, perhaps more. The Constitution is requested to state that the name should not be Miss Julia Wells—that the now happy bride is not Miss Julia Wells, daughter of Mrs. J. R. Wells, of 43\(^3\) Whitehall. And it might be well to add, she is no other Miss Julia Wells.

COMPLIMENTARY RESOLUTION

Regarding the Resignation of Captain

A few weeks ago Captain George B. Forbes de-termined to relinquish the captaincy of the At-lanta Artillery and he forwarded to the adjutant general his resignation.

His resignation was formally laid before the company at its last meeting and it was regretfully accented.

A CHRISTMAS EVE FIGHT.

A Young Woman Makes Several Despe

ate Efforts at Suicide. W. B. McMillan, Lem Dean, and a young girl who gave her name as Emma Jones, were arrested and locked up yesterday, charged with disorderly conduct and fighting.

The fight occurred in a stairway on Broad street, about 1 o'clock yesterday. Dean was pretty well bruised up, and seemed to have pretty well bruised up, and seemed to have gotten decidedly the worst of the encounter.

The girl wept bitterly on the way to the station house. She wrapped herself livefally in a large shawl and not a glimpse of her face could be gotten before she was locked up. After a few hours' imprisonment she was released and went to her boarding house.

She was in a most pitiable condition last night. She made two or three attempts to kill herself. She was absolutely desperate, and one time while standing talking to a gentleman, jumped to him, jerked his revolver out of his pocket and had it to her breast before her hand could be caught. She had morphine in her room and attempted to take a sufficient amount to produce death, but her motive was discovered and the drug takeh away from her.

missioned Men to Dine Them All.

Company B, Confederate Veterans, this week installed their recently elected officers.

They were: S. H. Landrum, captain; Martin Nally, first lieutenant; W. I. Wheeler, second lieutenant; M. S. Bridwell, third lieutenant. Judge Landrum appointed the following commissioned officers: Ben F. Floyd, orderly sergeant; J. W. Williams, first sergeant; B. Hadley, second sergeant; P. K. Fowler, third sergeant; M. J. Prisock, fourth sergeant; T. J. Ragland, first corporal; R. R. Blackburn, second corporal; B. Buce, third corporal; N. B. Lamb, fourth corporal.

Next week the commissioned officers will give a spread at the company's rooms, 28½ Decatur street, on some evening to be selected by them. The company has seventy members and thirty-six uniformed men. It has been in existence but a year and a half and is in an exceedingly prosperous condition.

Delightful Entertainment.

SEVENTY-EIGHT MEN DISCHARGED.

The Georgia Road Makes a Big Sweep in Augusta.

Augusta, Ga., December 24.-[Special.]-To reduce expenses the Georgia railroad this afternoon discharged seventy-eight men in the carpentry, tin and machine shops. Some of the men let go have been in the employ of the road for twenty-five years and more. The lumber mill was also shut down and will be closed for an indefinite period. It is the opinion of many that the workmen have been fired, not to reduce expenses, but to declare a big dividend. No promise has been made the men when they will be returned to work, and some of them who cannot afford to remain idle will leave here and go to other cities where they can secure employment.

MANY HOMES MADE HAPPY

In Macon on Christmas Eve by Kind-

Hearted Citi.ens.

MACON, Ga., December 24.—[Special.]— Many hearts and homes have been made glad and happy in Macon to-day by reason of the kindness and charity of her citizens. This morning at 9:30 o'clock wagons laden with groceries and in charge liberal hearted and discreet persons, started on their mission of goodness and mercy. Every house where there was need and want was visited, and a supply of eatables was left at every door. Many were the scenes of thanksgiving at the houses visited by the committee. A more chartable work was rever undertaken in Macon. Sunshine was brought into many homes that a few days ago promised to be very dark and gloomy on this Christmas eve. One hundred and sixty-five needy persons were liberally supplied with groceries, fruits and sweetmeats. Hearted Citizens.

Light. Light.

Cusseta, Ga., December 24.—[Special.]—
Our town and county enters upon a new era today. A newspaper (weekly) will be issued today. It will bear the name of The Chattahoochee News. Verily, we are ascending the scale. The first brick house our county ever had is just complèted. Our large and beautiful hotel is receiving the finishing touches of the painter's brush, and now the first newspaper ever issued in our county enters upon its career under flattering auspices.

A Christmas Eggnog.—The members of the South Carolina Society, of Atlanta, will have a joilification at their rooms today. Exquisite invitations have been sent out to South Carolinians who reside here, asking them to partake of an eggnog today from 11 o'clock this morning until 11 o'clock tonight. It will be an exceedingly pleasant affair.

GROUND TO DEATH.

A Woman Crushed by a Railroad

SHE IS CUT INTO SMALL PIECES.

She Has Had Several Narrow Escapes Before-The Story of a Horrible

Jennie Clay, a woman whose pretty face was familiar on Atlanta's streets a few years ago, was ground to death last night. The heavy wheels of a Western and Atlantic switch engine literally tore the woman's body into shreds. Only the head, shoulders and a part of the chest were left unmutilated.

The feet, legs, arms and a portion of the body were scattered in small pieces along the

The woman has been living for some time in the western portion of the city, and has been in the habit of going home every evening down the railroad track by the Western and Atlantic freight depot and around the roundhouse.

Several times the yardmen and engineers have found it necessary to make her leave the track to keep from running over her.

Shortly after 10 o'clock last night the oman made her appearance in the yard. She was walking leisurely, but somewhat unsteadily, along the track and was near the freight depot when a switch engine came up behind her on the track leading to the round-

Engineer Dobbs, who was on the engine saw the woman about the time he crossed Forsyth street and gave the alarm. The woman paid no attention to the whistling and bell ringing, but kept on up the track. The engineer persisted in sounding the signal of alarm and, thinking that the woman would leave the track, kept on. Just as he crossed a switch the front of his engine struck the woman, and in an instant she was cut into a thousand pieces. Only the head, chest and the upper portion of the body were left. Mr. Wheeler Mangum, of the Western and Atlantic railroad, was standing in his office door when the accident happened. He saw the great danger the woman was in and tried to save her, but the train was too close.

An examination disclosed the fact that the woman had a phial of morphine, a bottle of whisky and some bitters. The phial of whisky and the bottle of morphine were sitting beside her when she was found, and will be produced in evidence. In her mouth was a tooth brush and very near it was the box of snuff. For a long dis tance pieces of flesh were found. The presence of the morphine and whisky, together with the fact that she was walking along the track, gave rise to the belief that she was drunk. But the woman never spoke after the engine went over her.

Her death was instantaneous. The remains were turned over to Undertakers Wylie & Barclay, where they will stay until the coroner can look into the matter.

Taken to Columbus. The funeral of Mr. L. Jones, the young student, whose death occurred at 500 Whitehall street on Wednesday, took place at Columbus yesterday afternoon, where the body was taken early in the morning.

BOWGEN Lithia Water.

The Doremus Analysis.

Do the Company still swear by it or repudiate it? It is contradicted by Dr. Elwyn Waller, Professor of Chemistry in the School of Mines, and Chemist of the New York Board of Health.

Dr. Waller, referring to the Bowden Lithia Spring, says: "I did get a sample of water from the spring through a friend, and have made examination of it for one of my clients in New York. I did not let Mr. Howland (the proprietor of the Bowden) know that I had got the sample until afterwards. As to the sample, my client here does not wish me to give away the result, except that I may say that the sample did not contain nearly as much as 4.47 grains lithium bicarb per imperial gallon. Meantime, Mr. Howland has written me suggesting that he has two springs, one of which contains the 4.47 grains lithium bicarb per imperial gallon, the other one about a quarter of that amount. I wrote my friend at Atlanta about it. He assured me that the sample he sent me was from the spring claimed to contain the highest amount.

A Fair Proposition Repeated.

I WILL PAY $500, TO BE DEPOSITED IN ADVANCE, WITH ANY BANKER IN ATLANTA, to have the Bowden Lithia Spring placed for twentyfour hours under the control of two disinterested gentlemen, one to be selected by the company, the other by me, with the understanding they shall take from it a sufficient quantity of water for the purpose, and send it to Dr. Doremus for examination. If the examination of the water sent confirms his first examination, then the $500 to be handed over to the Springs Company. I, in any event, to pay Dr. Doremus for the examination.

FINANCE AND TRADE. New York stocks were strong again today, nearly the entire list closing at an advance. Louisville and Nashville closed at $314, Terminal at 1414, and the talk is that both are booked for higher

The bulls are undoubtedly on top, and with a plethera of money at low rates, can maintain the ascendancy while that condition lasts. It has been generally known that money was provided weeks ago to meet all charges against the Richmond and Danville, both direct and lease obligations, due January 1, but some people have expected default, and so expressed themselves.

Notice has been published, however, that all these obligations will be paid at maturity, and the money will undoubtedly be forthcoming.

The exchanges in all centers are now closed till Mon-day, and the gentlemen who are accustomed to mak-ing a living watching the ticker will have a dreary time, I fear, until the familiar sound greets them

THE NEW YORK MARKET.

The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK. December 24.—The stock market completed a short but active week today, with the largest business of the week, and a strong tone throughout the list, with special causes. Business was specially large, in view of the fact that London had holiday, but foreign houses were liberal buyers, especially of Richmond and West Pôint, and while the deal of strength and activity was acredited in some quarters to the covering of shorts, there was no lack of buying by outsiders in the more prominent shares, but there was a liberal sprinkling of outside business as well. In early trading the New York Central became the leader. Its substantial upward movement by which it strained the best prices reached on the present advance, being accelerated by further rumors in regard to the size of the extra dividend expected on the stock next week. Following this lead; came the marked gains in Lackawanna, Northern Pacific preferred, Union Pacific and Atchison. Among the inactive shares to come to the front were the lowa Central shares again, oregan Short Line, Pittsburg and Western, preferred, and Omaha, all of which made most substantial gains on unusually large transactions. In the afternoon, however, heavy buying of Richmond and West Point securities began, many of the most influential foreign houses bidding for stocks against houses usually credited with representing insiders. Preferred stock shot up 2½ per cent, but afterward lost all gain, while common stocks and bonds closed at their highest figures. The whole list, however, shared in the improvement, and after the first few minutes there was no hesitation or resection of any kind, and prices were steadily appreciating for all kinds of securities throughout the day. The opening was rather tame at irregular changes from last night's prices, but strength and activity in New York Central, in addition to the character of buying, soon started the sine on the upward march, and while the domand was most u

NEW YORK, December 24.—The European market was a little lower, but their trade in today's market was very limited. Prices today continued to advance and a broker who is identified with Mr. Cammack and a broker who is facilities and a broker who is bought a great deal of Northern Pacific preferred and Reading in the afternoon session. The new committee formed by Mr. Olcotto finance the Richmond Terminal company was spoken of very favorably, as it is composed of very influential men and people of great financial resources. The committee, of course, is formed in the interest of the stockholders and some plan is to be devised so that the stock will not be assessed. It seems at least for this moment to be a victory for the Brice-Thomas crowd against the Inman 17 atty. It has been customary heretofore to have a stockaythe day before Christmas, but the brokers were too busy today to resort to play and preferred to attend to their business. New York Central was also a very strong shot, but in the advance a block of 5,000 shares was sold by a Vanderbilk broker. The market today was a merry Christmas market. Everybody was in a happy frame of mind and, barring accidents it looks as if it would continue so. bought a great deal of Northern Pacific preferred and o'clock today the markets both here and in Liverpool were without quotable change. In Liverpool futures closed quiet at about 1-6td below last night's figures. Here an early decline of from 3@4 points had been almost entirely recovered, and it seemed likely that holiday conditions and quietness would continue to reign until Monday next. About 1:30 o'clock, however, the quietude was rudely interrupted by a holiday present from Bradstreet's in the shape of a crop estimate of 8,400,000 bales. The effect was immediately apparent in a decline of from 10@12 points, and at 2 o'clock the market is steady at 14 points below last evening and at the lowest prices of the season thus far. A comparison of the previous estimates of the Bradstreet authority with the actual out-turn does not justify much confidence in its prediction. Last year its estimate was $,100,000 bales, and it is not improbable it has erred this season quite as badly, but in an opposite direction. Its effect, however, has been to greatly increase the doubt as to the probability of receipts after the New Year, and to that extent disturb the confidence of holders. After 2 o'clock the market continued weak under the liquidation precipitated by the crop estimate above referred to. The close is about 19 points below last evening. It is hoped that the effect of the larger figures now current is about spent, but as Monday is a holiday in Liverpool while our market remains open it may be that foreign selling orders directed hither may still further depress values before Tuesday.

NEW YORK, December 24—The market opened steady and somewhat better than last night's closing with trading purely nominal and featureless until towards noon when it was known that Bradstreet would come out with an estimate. It has come, and was a staggerer, not alone to the bulls but to the bears as well. The figures given—8,400,600 bales—are the largest that have been ventured by any authority thus far. Immediately following the same the market began to break and continued declining until the close. The demoralization is the largest we have seen for many a day. There was excessive selling, mainly on stop orders and a lack of buying which, as is quite natural, has resulted in a loss of twenty odd points for the day. We have not seen the basis upon which these figures were arrived at, and, under the circumstances, cannot enter into a detailed criticism. We have simply to remark that we believe the figures are much out of the way, but only time can prove the correctness of these things. All other considerations were lost sight of under this new discouragement. It is useless to argue, and the lower we sell the more panie-stricken holders become. With all of this if, after the holidays the tendency of receipts should rejute these larger arguments, we shall again see better prices. It depends wholly upon this point, and we cannot so by anything else. If the crop should prove an excessively large one we shall feel that we have drawn our deductions from reports of our southern friends, on whom we must rely.

THE CHICAGO MARKET. Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO. December 24. — The wheat market displayed more strength today, and there was less disposition to sell. Liberal engagements at New York yesterday, rumors of an advancing cold wave, and yesterday, rumors of an advancing cold wave, and later strong and higher cables from the continent, started shorts to covering, and developed some investment buying on the theory that it had been going one way long enough. During the last hour the market eased off some, with trade very dull. May opened at 96% advanced to 97% and closed at 96% Corn was strong and higher. The pressure of long corn on the market seems to be over for the present, and the shorts were more generally disposed to cover.

corn on the market seems to be over for the present, and the shorts were more generally disposed to cover. There was also a feeling on the part of speculators that about all the break which could be expected had taken place, and that purchases for return were ordered. During the closing hour trade was very slack, and prices reacted somewhat. January opened at 41½c, sold up to 42½c and closed at 41½c.

Onts were quiet and firm without reature. Receipts of hogs were moderate, with prices fairly well maintained, and the recent_decline induced increased buying of orders, with the result that the market was firm during most of the day, and a somewhat higher range of prices was reached. Estimated receipts of tomorrow: Wheat, 180 cars; corn, 250 cars; oots, 180 cars; hogs, 30,000 head.

The board will not hold another session until Monday next. day next.

Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter.

By Private Wire to Youngblood & Haas. CHICAGO, December 24.—Our markets were all firm oday, chiefly owing to the fact that the local crowd was short and wanted to even up before the holidays. The trade was dull throughout all the pits. Wheat ables were firmer, especially Berlin. There was said o be a good demand here for eash wheat and there are some foreign orders limited close to the market. For had a natural reaction after the long recent deline and ruled firm during the session. Light receipts iso helped the market. Provisions ruled quite firm carly but lost most o heir strength in the latter part of this session. The stimated receipts for hogs for market were again beral.

ATLANTA, GA., December 25, 1891.

This Christmas Day. From the centuries far away, On the kneeling world today Shines one splendid star-the gem Of the stars of Bethlehem.

(O, Christ! for whom its beams were shed. Lo! we were to thy manger led With those that loved thee, knelt with them Remember us at Bethlehem!)

It is shining as when sweet-While their flocks fed at their feet, Dreamed the shepherds, and its beams Made the glory in their dreams.

(O, Christ! the gentle and the sweet, We kiss thy hands, we kiss thy feet: Though all our sins our love condemn, Do thou remember Bethlehem!)

Ring, ye bells, your welcome! hail Through the morning's misty veil, Love's own priceless diadem On the brow of Bethlehem!

(O. Christ! thy dreaming face at rest Upon the blessed Mother's breast; Let not thy lips our kiss condemn-Dream of us now at Bethlehem!)

Ring ye bells, the stars above! Tell the story, sweet with love; Ring the glory that it gives-How Love dies and dying lives!

(O, Christ! the merciful and sweet, For those sharp nails that pierced thy feet; Thy crown of thorns, our crown to be, Remember us at Calvary!)

Sing, ye herald-angels, sing While the bells the music ring, Sing the message once again: "Peace on earth, good will to men!"

(O, Christ! the crowned and glorified Teach us thy love-the love that died And lives-and for thy sacrifice Remember us in Paradise!)

FRANK L. STANTON.

Mr. St. John's Letter.

Mr. William P. St. John, the president of the Mercantile National bank, of New York, sends THE CONSTITUTION a very interesting letter, which we print elsewhere for the information of our readers. Mr. St. John is one of the few bankers of New York city who have any real knowledge of finance beyond that which enables even a dull intelligence to do a fairly prosperous brokerage siness. We say "one of the few." Perhans it would be nearer the truth to say that he is the only banker in New York city who has given the slightest evidence that he understands the silver question or any other tion requiring an intellectual effort. The dullest mind is equal to the task of shaving notes, selling exchange and lending money on gilt-edged collateral. As a hanker who has a knowledge of the situation Mr. St. John is for the free and unlimited coinage of silver. None of his brother bankers have dared to enter into a controversy with him, but have devoted themselves to the task of keeping his arguments out of the daily papers of New York. It is a congenial task, admirably fitted to the scope and character of their intellectual equipments.

So far as THE CONSTITUTION is concerned

Mr. St. John may rest assured that there will be no relaxation in its efforts in behalf of the free and unlimited coinage of silver. The editorial which seems to have caused him alarm, was intended to be a discussion of a possible compromise-proceeding on the theory that half a loaf is better than no bread at all. The suggestion had been made, and THE CONSTITUTION discussed it as a step in the direction of free and unlimited coinage. To Mr. St. John the question is properly one-sided; he regards it from the point of view of a man who has a profound understanding of its purely financial bearings. He would move in a direct line or not at all. To THE CONSTITUTION the question is two-sided; it is both financial and political. It not infrequently happens that a great political movement can be carried out only by a series of compromises. In the case of the free and unlimited coinage of silver, it seems certain that the republican president, with no understanding of the situation at all, will stand in the way. In other words, free coinage seems to depend absolutely on democratic success in 1892. So does tariff reform. Therefore, to secure democratic success, which is the main thing, THE CONSTITUTION would invoke the aid of practical politics and follow its sugges-

The people want tariff reform and the money of the constitution-sound gold and silver dollars-but they cannot have these until the democrats get control of the government. The main thing, therefore, is democratic success. That is the first thing to think about and to work for. We think that Mr. St. John is correct in his views as to the result of the free coinage of American silver. We think that he is wrong in his views as to the results of the present law-the Sherman law of 1890. We have seen that the principal effect of that law has been to cause a decline in the price of silver bullion. The bullion that is now accumulating in the treasury vaults is the "dump" which the goldolators have been talking about. They had it on paper to frighten our own people, now they have it in fact for the purpose of frightening Europe. Now, under this law there must ooner or later come a crash, and the decline in silver is in some measure a preparation for that event

There certainly ought to be no timidity on the part of democrats in dealing with the silver question. There is nothing more certain than that free and unlimited coinage would give us sound silver dollars equal in bullion value to gold dollars. Governor Hill declares that on this issue the democrats can win in New York state. They can win on it in all the states where they have any chance at all, and there is no likelihood of any compromise. A bill for the free and unlimited coinage of silver will be presented to Mr. Harrison, and if he vetoes it the issue will be made for the next campaign. Should he approve it, the democrats will have succeeded in wiping from the statute books the Christmas Wishes. To each and all of its readers and to the people in general—to the rich, the poor, the high and low-THE CONSTITUTION wishes a merry Christmas. We trust there is not a little one in all the land so poor and forsaken that heaven will not send it a vision of Santa Claus.

We trust that Mr. Crisp will find his stocking full of public approval of his manly and sensible course in arranging the forces of democratic legislation.

We trust Governor Hill will get a demo cratic legislature for his Christmas gift. We trust Mr. Mills will be well enough to enjoy Christmas cheer. We trust that Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland and the baby will have more Christmas than they know what to do with. We trust that all our esteemed comtempo raries in Georgia and elsewhere will have as much fun as THE CONSTITUTION proposes to have. In short, we hope that everybody will enjoy the day as it used to be enjoyed in the good old times that are no more.

Our Deadly Fool Friends.

Through the smoke and hurly-burly of today looms a grim tomorrow. All over the land thousands of merry revelers will put in their deadly and destructive work. The record of one Christmas is the record of all. Guns and pistols, supposed to be empty, or loaded only with blank cartridges, will make business for the undertakers. Fire-crackers will start conflagrations. Social drinking bouts will end in murder. There will be wicked folly as well as inno cent mirth today, and tomorrow some of those who were in the mad dance will have to pay the piper.

Save us from our deadly fool friends, today of all days in the year!

Why point the weapons of death a human targets? Why offer wine to the man whose brain will be crazed by it? Why give a symphony of glitter and color to the blind, and a rare bit of lace to the wearer of a threadbare dress?

The mistakes of our deadly fool friends range from the tragic to the absurdly comic, but they leave heartaches behind them.

Why not have a sensible Christmas, if such a thing is possible?

How to Deal with Cranks. Mr. Rudolph Martinsen, a quiet citizen of New York, is a sensible man. Recently he learned that his mother-inlaw, Mrs. Ada Thorpe Loftus, had designs upon the life of President Harrison. This information came to him while Mrs. Loftus was in Europe. The lady decided to come over to this country and get possession of her son-in-law's children. Her plan was to go to the president and if he refused or failed to aid her it was her purpose to kill Martinsen, instead of making light of the matter, had the lady watched in Europe, and secured proof of her insanity. Then he kept on the alert, and had her turned over to the proper authorities as soon as she landed in New York. Many a man, and especially a son-in-law, would not have taken such a step. Mrs. Loftus is said to be rational in conversation, gifted with the power of impressing people favorably, and, to all appearances harmless, even as a crank. Martinsen would take no risks. He says that his relative is afflicted with a mania resembling Guiteau's, and he does not propose to give her a chance to attack the president. It strikes us that this quiet citizen has set a good example for others to follow. The murderous cranks who every now and then find a victim are suspected or known to be mentally unbalanced before they get in their work. But they are laughed at and allowed to go at large until they leap from

It is safer to take Martinsen's course. The cranks should be locked up or placed under surveillance. There is no good reason for giving them the earth simply because they want it. Lock up the cranks and there will be less trouble and more happiness in the

The Hurlburt Case.

The announcement that William Henry Hurlburt has fled to Mexico to escape a trial for perjury in England, will startle people who knew him in his better days.

Hurlburt was a promising New York journalist as far back as thirty years ago. He was at one time editor of the New York World, and became widely known as a dudish literary man with a decided society bent. He went to London to reside, moved in the best circles, and finally a few months ago, appeared in court to answer Miss Evelyn's charge of seduction. The lady told a straight story. She swore that Hurlburt, under the name of Wilfred Murray, had made love to her and had ruined her. The letters she showed from Murray were in Hurlburt's handwriting. The defendant denied everything. He said that Wilfred Murray looked enough like him to be his double, but he did not produce him nor account for his absence. No witness who had ever seen Murray was introduced. The jury, influenced by Hurlburt's social position and his three score years, returned a verdict in his favor. But Miss Evelyn did not give up. She had Hurlburt indicted for perjury, and sent detectives after him to America. The hunted man was not willing to stand trial. He sought shelter in Mexico where he cannot be extradited and carried to England. It is now believed on both sides of the ocean that the fugitive is Wilfred Murray, and that Miss Evelyn is a much injured woman. Hurlburt is not the only man who has led a prosperous and reputable career with a disgraceful breakdown after he reached old age. Some men lead model lives until past the age of fifty, and then their uncontrollable passions and follies scandalize everybody around them. Human nature is a queer thing.

IT APPEARS from the communication of President Chappell, of the Girls' Normal and Industrial school, published elsewhere, that the instituion is very much in need of more dormitory room, and the president shows h improvement would be of great benefit. His suggestion is a meritorious one, and it is to be hoped that the extension wil be made at an early date.

FROM A TEXAS STANDPOINT.

Ex-Lieutenant Governor Barney Gibbs on the Political Situation.

DALLAS, Tex., December 24.—[Special.]—Mr. Mills will have a hard time to be elected to the senate from Texas, and probably will not make the trip. Mr. Chilton, the appointee of the governor, is very popular, and Congressman Culberson is likewise. Mills is not very popular in Texas. He has strong friends, but very bitter son is likewise. Mills is not very popular in Texas. He has strong friends, but very bitter enemies.

Mr. Barney Gibbs, ex-lieutenant governor of Texas, passed through Dallas, and The Gazette publishes the following interview with him:

"Who will be the next senator from Texas?"

"I don't want to speculate," said Mr. Gibbs, 'until all the entries are made—there will be no pools sold on the winner against the field. The race for blood will be next spring with a legislature to elect. There is but one thing certain about this senatorial race, and that is that some makers of a United States senator will have no better luck than the rainmakers."

"Who is to be the nominee, and what are the chances for success in the presidential election?"

"The inclination of the party is now, and has beenifor some time, to try a western man—the truth is, one democratic nominee will run about as well as another if he is all right on the issues and accepts the platform. The name and newspaper reputation of a nominee for president don't add much to his vote—men comparatively unknown have made the easiest winnings as presidential nominees. Biaine had the greatest personal reputation, yet Cleveland, comparatively unknown, defeated him; Harrison, very little known or esteemed, defeated Mr. Gleveland in spite of his prestige as the ruling power.
"Governor Hill isgain. ng strength rapidly among teemed, defeated Mr. Geverand in prestige as the ruling power.

"Governor Hill is gaining strength rapidly among "Governor Hill is gaining strength rapidly among his because of his prestige as the raining power.

"Governor Hillis gaining strength rapidly among the democratic masses, not only because of his uniform and long continued success, but because of his fighting qualities and the attacks made on him. When the bank wing of the democracy slandered and abused General Jackson, the fighting democrats and especially those in the rural districts, railied to his support and nominated and elected him. It looks now like history may repeat itself.

"The threats of some of Mr. Cleveland's overzealous friends to break up the party if anybody else is nominated, and their abuse of Hill, Gorman, Gray, and all others who favor silver coinage, has riled a great many democrats. Then their attempt to belittle Hill appears ridiculous to the people who know his record. From the birth of the great state of New York up to date no man except Hill has in the same time been governor-elect, United States senator-elect and the party begging him to accept the nomination for a third term as governor. No democrat, not even Tilden, ever had that much strength in New York.

"The people that know him best seem to trust
"The people that know him best seem to trust

"The people that know him best seem to trust him more, and the attempt by the newspapers to poison the minds of democrats against him is reacting just as in General Jackson's case.
"His recent speech in favor of free coinage, delivered in the teeth of Wall street, has gained him thousands of adherents. After all, success will depend upon the action of this congress and how our next national platform strikes the voter. The revolt against republican extravagance and high taxes will have to be so strong and so generally distributed that bought votes can't control the doubtful states. I guess all sure enough democrats will cheerfully accept the nominee, whoever he may be, but it would be the irony of fate if Governor Hill's enemies caused the democratic nomination to be thrust upon him."

A BAD WRECK.

The East Tennessee Vestibuled Badly Demolished Yesterday.

BUT NO LIVES ARE REPORTED LOST.

Several Atlanta People Hurt-Justice Par H. Owens in the Wreck-Those Who Were Hurt. Train No. 11-the East Tennessee's handsome vestibuled—jumped the track fiftythree miles south of .Atlanta yesterday morning. As a result, one of the most complete wrecks in railway history was made. And it was a miracle that no lives The vestibuled is scheduled to leave the Atlanta union depot at 3:45 o'clock in the morning, but yesterday it was an hour and a half late. The train left Cincinnati at 11 o'clock

Wednesday, and was quite full of passengers going home for the holidays. It backed into the union depot here over an hour late. As soon as a number of Atlanta passengers could get aboard and an engine ttached, the train pulled out. Engine 212, manned by Engineer E. E. Mower, pulled the train, and Conductor C. V. Rainey was in charge. Through the mist and the dim morning light the vestibuled sped at a faster speed than usual to regain lost time. Through deep cuts, over steep embankmen and high trestles the ponderous train went rushing southward. No stops were made fo passengers; only for wood and water was the vestibuled brought to a standstill. And only wo stops were made-at Ellenwood and Mc-Donough-and then the last stop.

Engineer Mower was sitting at his place peering through the uncertain morning light, when, with a sudden jerk, the ponderou chine left the track.

The track had spread and from the iron railing down on to the crossties the heavy train went with a mighty crash.

It was in a deep cut and the momentum of the train, which was going fifty miles an hour, threw the cars with fearful force against the steep sides of the cut.

For 200 yards the train ran on the crossties, and the end of the cut having been reached the cars tumbled down a small embankment. There was a dreadful panic among the pas engers, and the ladies were screaming with

The train was badly broken up, and it is more than a miracle that no lives were lost. The engine was a perfect wreck; the first car turned over on its side, the second, the baggage and express, completely stripped of the trucks. The second-class car stood on end, and was mashed almost into splinters.

The buffet sleeper was overturned, but wa less damaged than the others. A scene of the wildest disorder ensued. The cries of the injured, and the excited appeals for help added to the disorder. It was found that Master Charley Owens, the thirteen-year-old son of Judge Pat H. Owens, of this city, was the only passenger who was seriously hurt. . He was riding in th sleeper with his father and Bailiff J. W. Harper, and was thrown through the window. He was badly hurt on the shoulder and breast, but it is hoped not seriously. He was brought back to the city, on a cot, last night on the Central train. Justice Owens was badly cut about the head but not seriously. Mr. J. W. Harper was hurt on the right hip, his wrist and shoulder were mashed, and several painful cuts on the head were sustained. Mr. J. B. David. of Sugar Valley, Ga., had his right leg and shoulder lacerated. Mr. H. S. Long, of Ohio, and the newsbutcher, C. E. Gibbons sustained minor injuries.

Mr. Henry Cassin and his bride were on the train but escaped without a scratch. Miss McFarland was badly hurt and when rescued she was pinned between two seats, on of her knees was dislocated, and she sustained other injuries.
Mr. D. E. Bowman, of Ohio, Mr. F. J. Rob erts, of Louisville, Ky., and Mr. George Sher idan were slightly injured.

Dr. W. O'Daniel, the penitentiary physician was on train goinghome to spend the holidays and rendered valuable aid in caring for the jured passengers. Seven of the injured passengers reached Atlanta last night on the 7:35 train on the

They were Judge Owens and his son Claude Cook, Cate McLaughlin, the fireman, E. E. Mower, the engineer, J. W. Harpe and C. E. Gibbons.

Mr. Claude Cook, the baggagemaster, had a ively experience dodging trunks, but escaped with only a few bruises.

The track at the scene of the wreck was torn up for about two hundred yards, but was repaired by the wrecking train, and the track was clear yesterday afternoon.

ETCHED AND SKETCHED.

Hon. E. B. Smith, senator from the twenty-ninth district, returned yesterday to his home in Jasper county, having come to Atlanta to bring hi charming daughter, Miss Nannie Smith, who visit Atlanta during the holidays.

Senator Smith is one of the strongest members of the state senate, and his valuable counsel did much to shape legislation during the long summer

The papers that all along desired the election of Mr. Mills to the speakership—those that openly advocated his nomination and those that were for him at heart, though nominally for others of th aspirants—seem to have set the Texan up as a little tin god before whom everybody must fall down and worship. But they don't find many ndorsers among the rank and file of the party One prominent Georgian who was talking about Speaker Crisp's committees yesterday outlined the feeling of democrats generally when he said: "These papers seem to think that there is nobody in the party but Mills. Now nobody admires th Texas man more than I do-I give him full credit for his statued democracy and undoubted ability; but good politics and good common sense fnspired Speaker Crisp in his appointment of Springer at the head of the ways and means committee, and I believe nine out of every ten demo-crats in the country feel as I do about it. In the first place Mr. Crisp gave that important appointment to his friend. I believe in that sort of democracy. If the men who were Mills's strongest supporters had displayed that sort of politics during the recent democratic administration, the party would be in powen now. Mr. Springer is as able a man as Mr. Mills and knows that a men a boart its testification. ust as much about the tariff. Then, too, it comes n very bad grace in Mr. Mills's friends to raise his hue and cry when everybody knows that had Mr. Mills had the appointment of that con he, too, would have gone to the north for his chair man and would have selected Bill Bynum, who had absolutely no claims for that important place be-yond his staunch support of Mr. Mills. I for one am glad Springer is the chairman, and I am cer tain the interests of the party couldn't be in'bette

Mrs. Crisp came in yesterday from Americus, rested a few hours at the Kimball, and left las night for Washington, where she goes to nurse

Mrs. Crisp is not in the best of health herself, but she is a brave, noble and devoted wife, and, at the first intelligence of her husband's illness, pre-pared to join him. She carried with her her two She was naturally distressed at the reports from Washington, though the speaker is not considered dangerously ill at all, but sadly in need of rest.

A delayed train made Mrs. Crisp's journey to Atlanta fatiguing. She had hoped to have her husband at home tomorrow, but she will not have the pleasure of eating Christmas dinner with him.

Mr. E. Ingersoll Wade, associate editor of The Americus Times-Recorder, accompanied Mr. Crisp from her home to Atlanta. He states the Americas will be greatly disappointed if the speaker cannot come home for a day or two during the recess. A large fund had been subscribed for fireworks and bands and vited and all the congressmen around. has not given up the idea yet and it is still hoped that the judge will go home to get that welcome which is waiting.

ETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Mr. St. John's Letter. New York, December 23.—Editor Constitution: The editorial sanction by The Constitution on the 19th, of the proposal "freecoinage of American silver" nuine alarm for the cause which has been o ably and influentially fought for by THE CON-STITUTION and so imperils the pects here that I venture the following con To adopt this proposal would be (1) to furnish two prices for silver bullion in our own markets (2) to reduce rather than to increas price for silver; (3) to deny the farmer and pla their promised results of free coinage (unlimited viz.: The higher plane of prices on which to compete in Europe with India in supplying Europe our grain and cotton; (4) to diminish instead of to increase the volume of money resulting in the United States, compared with that from the existing (Sherman) law. Hence to throw away the influences which are a unit for the soundest of sound money, the money of The the soundest of sound money, the money of THE CONSTITUTION, the money in which $1 in silver, or $1 gold would melt up into a dollar's worth of bullion in all markets.

The existing law absorbs 54,000,000 ounces for silver from the market annually. Our mines have never yet produced 50,000,000 ounces of silver in a year. If the absorption of 54,000,000 ounces will not enhance the world's market price the absorption of only 50,000,000 will not certainly. The ev dence is ample that when speculation is dis-couraged by the sense that no legislation at all is to take place, as to silver, and fluctuations are thus practically avoided, our trades and European trades with the far east will so proceed their operations, naturally and evenly, that India and China will increase their absorption of silver and leave our present law to affect the price toward a national enhancement. The result will be taken as evidence by the republican managers in the next campaign that unlimited free coinage is then safe. Thereupon the equally unrestricted coinage for gold and silver, which the democrats postpone to a convenient season, will be the re-publical platform next November, if the folly of postponement is adopted now. The American production, free coinage, was considered by lead ng republicans in the last senate and carefull I. It is inconceivable that democrats ca be wanting of that information if senators are ap plied to for it. When so astute an observer a Governor Hill and with as much to lose by mis take as he, regards New York state as safe for the democrats with free coinage, equally unlimited for gold and silver, in the platform, it is scarcely conceivable that any timidity should allow di tractions among the forces which have brought us

I beg you to consider my intrusion as venture only under profound conviction, and because of any slightest warrant that appears in the very cordial consideration with which THE CONSTITU-TION has honored some of them.

I look for nothing material in aid of democrati achievements in the next campaign from Massa-chusetts democrats, silver or no silver. They can not help or hinder the election of a democrat for president. Very respectfully,

It Should Be Provided.

WILLIAM P. ST.JOHN.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., December 24.—Editor Constitution: In the interview with Governor Northen about his recent visit to the Georgia Normal and Industrial college, published in las Sunday's Constitution, the governor is reporte s saving, among other things: "The school is full and many applicants have been turned away; no more room." Allow me to say that this state-ment is strictly true of the dormitory, or college poarding department, but does not apply to the college itself. There is room in the col many more pupils. It is true they cannot be accommodated in the dormitory, but they can get good board in the best private families on very reasonable terms. A large number of our pupilsnearly one hundred-are now living that way, and hearly one intered—are now integrate way, and they find it entirely satisfactory, although it is, of course, on some accounts not so good for them as living in the dormitory. good for them as fiving in the dormitory. Still, they are subject to the same general rules and regulations as the dormitory pupils, and are under the constant and eareful supervisions of the faculty. I make this correction for fear that the statement, as it appeared in your paper, may keep back girls who may wish to enter the college in January or later in the season.

Dack girls who may wish to enter the college in January or later in the season.

To a pupil boarding in a private family, the entire cost of attendance on the school, including books and stationery, is about one hundred and thirty-five dollars a year. To one boarding in the dormitory it is about one hundred dollars a year. The dormitory is run on the strictly co-operative plan. Boarding there, including fuel, lights and washing, will average scattering the plan. dornitory if is about one hundred dollars a year. The dormitory is run on the strictly co-operative plan. Boarding there, including fuel, lights and washing, will average certainly not more, probably considerably less, than ten dollars a month; and yet the girls are as well provided for in every way as they are at fashionable female colleges, where the cost is twice as great. This is the result of our experiment with only fitty-four boarders—the full capacity of the present dormitory. With a larger number, the cost, on the co-operative plan, would, of course, be proportionately lessened. With 200 boarders, I am sure it could be brought down to at least $0 a month. I believe we would have over three hundred pupils here now, even in the first year of the school, if we had dormitory room for them, for I have turned off applicants literally by hundreds. So a larger dormitory is the crying need of the school. It is the only thing lacking to make the institution a complete and very grand success. The school is already doing undoubtedly the very best, finest, noblest educational work that was ever done for young women in Georgia or in the south, or, I sincerely believe, in the United States. I believe Governor Northen and our lady board of visitors, and the many other intelligent persons who have visited our college and seen us at work, will endorse this statement. I sit not a pity that hundreds of Georgia's noblest and most earnest girls should be turned away from such a school merely for want of an additional building that would cost only a few thousand dollars? This additional dormitory is all that we now ask of the state, and it is absolutely necessary in order that the school may completely accomplish the great work for which it was designed, and for which it is otherwise so well equipped. Respectfully, President Georgia Normal and Industrial College.

CHRISTMAS ANTHEM. LOVINGLY DEDICATED TO THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE BIBLE CLASS, ATLANTA, GA.1 Now let us lift our glad hosanna, For, behold, Christ's hidden manna or, behold, Christ's hidden God hath given us to eat; Our bread cometh down from heaven, A white stone to us is given, With a new name thereon writ.

In this name all things God summeth

Every mystery it solveth, Live and move and bath its being: From it mortal sense is fleeing, Out of it ray joy and peace; All that is exists but through it;

Then let us seek it and ensue it,

As Saint John exhorts-nor cease Till we've found it at the marrow Of each seeming sin and sorrow
Each material distress,
Till its healing radiations
Shail have joined all creeds and nations In one grand Christ-consciousness.

Money Motion. Money Motion.

From The Washington Star.

During the discussion of the United States banking bill in congress some time in 1825 or 1836 John Randolph of Roanoke, who was opposed to the passage of the bill which was intended to establish a United States bank, said that he had discovered perpetual motion, and it was very simple, being the fact that—

"Paper makes money,

Money makes banks,

Ranks make poverty,

Poverty makes rags,

Rags make paper,

Paper makes money,

Money makes banks,

"Rags make paper,

Paper makes money,

A LESSON FROM HENRY W. GRADY. EDITOR CONSTITUTION-Enclosed I send you a piece of poetry which was the favorite with our late lamented. It will doubtless animate some cold heart to do a charitable deed, and thus please the spirit of Henry Grady. The Tapestry Weavers.

Let us take to our hearts a lesson-no lesson can braver be—
From the ways of the tapestry weavers on the other side of the sea.

Above their heads, the pattern hangs; they study it with care;
The while their fingers deftly work, their eyes are fastened there. They tell this curious thing, besides, of the ps-tient, plodding weaver.

He works on the wrong side evermore, but works for the right side ever,
It is only when the weaving stops, and the web is loosed and turned. That he sees his real handiwork—that his marvel-ous skill is learned. Ah! the sight of its delicate beauty, how it pays him for all his cost;
No rarer, daintier work than his was ever done by froat. Then the master bringeth him golden hire, and giveth him praise as well.

And how happy the heart of the weaver is, no tongue but his own can tell. The years of man are the looms of God, let down from the place of the sun. Wherein we are weaving alway, till the mystle web is done—Weaving blindly, but weaving surely, each for himself his fate.
We may not see how the right side looks; we can only weave and wait.

But looking above for the pattern, no weaver need have fear.
Only let him look clear into heaven—the perfect pattern is there.
If he keeps the face of our Savior forever and His toil shall be sweeter than honey, his weaving is sure to be right.

And when his task is ended, and the web is turned and strown.

He shall hear the voice of the Master. It shall say to him, "well done?"
And the white-winged angels of heaven, to bear him thence, shall come down;
And God for his wages shall give him, not come but a golden crown.

The Christmas fund grew yesterday to a ptal of about a thousand dollars, which was the mark set at the start. The amount contributed is about two-thirds in cash and onethird in goods of the most desirable kind-just the kind which would have been bought if all he contributions had been in money.

Christmas at the Jail.

Christmas at the Jall.

All the prisoners in Fulton county jail will enjoy a sumptuous Christmas dinner today at 1 o'clock. Sheriff Morrow is a humane officer, and he sympathizes with every unfortunate being. He has given instructions to the jailers to prepare an extra fine dinner, including turkey and trimmings. Every inmate of the prison will partake freely of this repast, and there will be an abundance of good things. The United States prisoners, too, will be treated to an extra dinner, and it will be washed down with good old rye. This is the one day in the year when the vilest male factor and the most exemplary Christian enjoy in common the good things of life.

Chief Joyner's Turkeys.

Chief Joyner's Turkeys.

Chief Joyner remembered all of his men in a handsome manner yesterday morning. The chief has made it a point to remember his men every Christmas season, usually in the shape of a banquet. This year he decided to make his gift in another way. So he sent to Tennessee for seventy choice turkeys and yesterday morning these were delivered to the different houses with the compliments of Captain and Mrs. Joyner. There was about five hundred pounds of turkey in all; every man in the department received a big, fat, nicely dressed turkey, and seventy homes were made happy. There will be a great many happy Christmas dinners in Atlanta today, but none will be happier than those of the members of the fire department. And all the boys thank the chief for a big part of those dinners. Chief Joyner's Turkeys.

CHRISTMAS PARDONS.

The Governor Will Spend His Day Looking Over Applications.

AND HE MAY PARDON SOME OF THEM.

Andrew Cobb Commissioned-A Contest ant Who Filed His Notice Too Late. Other News from the Capitol.

The governor may pardon a convict today. And he may not.

In many states, the governor has the power to grant unconditional pardons to convicts, usually to life men. Last Christmas, for instance, Governor Bob Taylor, of Tennessee, signed pardon orders for sixty convicts in that state. Sixty families were gladdened; sixty firesides brightened.

There was a good deal of talk yesterday about Governor Northen granting Christmas pardons, but if he does they will not be mere treatient." "sentiment" pardons.
"I do not pardon anybody for sentiment," says he. "If I pardon a man good reasons must be given for it." Although the governor will grant no Christ-mas pardons he has respited three condemned murderers, and thus given them another Christmas on earth.

In anticipation of Christmas pardons, a great pile of applications for elemency are on the governor's desk.

None of them have been looked into yet, and one have been refused or granted.
Governor Northen will spend today at his office examining these, and if any are found with reasons that will justify a pardon, they will receive favorable action. The governor will work hard all day on these applications for pardon and nothing else will occupy his

Hon, Andrew Cobb will receive a Christmas present today in the shape of a commission as a trustee of the State university. It was sent to him yesterday, and this bright Athenian will appreciate no Christmas gift more than this. He is deeply interested in the university, and his work in its interest will be a labor of love. His friends in Athens, and all over Georgia as well, will rejoice with him.

The Official Count.

Ninety-six thousand, five hundred and thirty-five dollars represents the amount of coupons paid by Treasurer Hardeman within the last six months.

Major Warren, of the executive department, finished the count yesterday and made a certificate to the amount. tificate to the amount.

A Requisition, Jack and Tom Daniels are under indictment in Bartow county for riot. They have fled to Tennessee, and were captured there a day or so ago, Governor Northen yesterday issued a requisition upon Governor Buchanan, of Tennessee, for the return of these law-breakers to Bartow county.

They will be brought head at once

They will be brought back at once. It Was Too Late.

Governor Northen mailed a commission to J. W. Thrasher yesterday as sheriff of Brooks J. W. Thrasher yesterday as snerin of process county.

The envelope containing the commission had hardly been committed to the mails when a telegraphic message was received from Mr. Melton, who was Mr. Thrasher's opponent in the election, asking him to withdraw the commission, as he would contest the election.

It was too late, however, and Mr. Melton will have to enter the list two years from now if he wants to be sheriff.

WHERE IS SHEP

A Cincinnati Father Is Anxious to |Know the! Whereabouts of His Daughter. "Abandoned by her husband in a strange city."

That is the way The Cincinnati Enquirer begins a sensation which has an Atlanta end to it.

The story continues this way:

"Willam Maringer, of 239 Bremen street, came to police headquarters and asked the assistance of the police in learning of the whereabouts of his niece, Mrs. Hattie Inderreden, who left Cincinnati to meet her husband, Joe Inderreden, at Atlanta, Ga., six weeks ago. It seems that the young woman's husband had not supported her as he should have done, and a good part of the two years they have been married she has spentat her uncle's house. The story continues this way:

they have been married she has spentat her uncle's house.

"Several months ago her husband went to Atlanta, where he had obtained work, and six weeks ago his wife, in response to his repeated requests, left for Atlanta to join him. Her uncle received one letter from her, in which she said she was living with her husband at No. 205 Davis street, in Atlanta, and that they were getting along nicely.

"Maringer wrote her, addressing her as above, and received an answer to his letter.

"Three weeks ago a friend of the young woman told Maringer that he had seen her husband on Vine street drunk. The news alarmed him, and he wrote again to his neice. She replied that her husband had left her in Atlanta; saying that he would return in a few days. She was out of money and her husband had been gone a week. Maringer promptly sent her money and a letter telling her to come back to Cincinnati. Since then he has not heard from her."

The Atlanta police say they know nothing of the case.

The Y. M. D. Club, of Calhoun, Entertain Their Lady Friends-The E. K. D. Club Dance at Moreland Park.

Calhoun, Ga., December 24.—[Special.]—The members of the Y. M. D. Club entertained their young lady friends in a most delightful way at a dinner on Wednesday evening at the Haynes house. This is a social club composed entirely of young men, and its entertainments are always a success. Many were present in response to the house. This is a social club composed entirely of young men, and its entertainments are always a success. Many were present in response to the invitations that had been sent, and the occasion was one of rarest enjoyment. Dinner was served at 10 and lasted until 12 o'clock, the menu being served in five courses. At a late hour the following toasts were responded to, Dr. Harbin being toastmaster: "Woman in Journalism" by Editor J. H. Hall and Miss Maggle Thornton; "Woman in Professions" by Mr. J. W. Fain and Miss Bessie Fain; "Calhoun Girls" by Mr. M. A. Mathews and Miss Mattie Boyd; all of which were much enjoyed. Those present were: Misses Lulie Pitts, Nextie Wells, Bessie and Bartie Fain, Mattie and Bettie Boyd, Azile and Lizzie Jones, Maggie and Bessie Thornton, Maude McDaniel, Atlanta; Allie Rankin, May Hudgins, Minnie Clark; Laura Mathews, Nannie Jones, Atlanta; Edna Pulliam, Emma Barrett, Fannie Ellis, Laura Haynes, Emma Hill, Resaca; Lizzie and Kathleen Johnston; Mrs. Logan; Messrs. Miss Neally Stevens. This charming musician will give a piano recital Tuesday evening, December the 29th, in the new Y. M. C. A. hall. Miss Stevens is unquestionably one of the greatest musicians in this country and those who hear her on this occasion will no doubt pronounce her so. The Philadelphia News in speaking of her performance in that city says.

"Miss Neally Stevens made her first appearance in Philadelphia Saturday evening before an audience that fairly taxed the seating capacity of Association hall. Her rendering of a programme sufficiently varied to display her powers convinced the audience that no superior lady artist had ever visited this city. She possesses an easy, poetic visited this city. She possesses an easy, poetic manner, which captivates her hearers. She is endowed with sufficient strength and endurance to render the complicated works of her great tutor, Franz Liszt, with perfect ease. The programme opened with a difficult toccata and fugue Diminer, by Bach, and was followed by selections from St. Saens, Kuilak, Chopin, Moszkowski, Rubinstein, Raff, Liszt, and a few lighter but creditable works by such well-known American composers as Wilson G. Smith, Ad. M. Foerster and C. Lavalle, in all of which Miss Stevens made a most valle, in all of which Miss Stevens made a most favorable impression, and the general desire of those who attended is that they may have the opportunity of hearing her again at no distant date."

THE SCHOOL BOARD.

The Last Meeting for This Year Held Yesterday.

ALL THE OFFICERS ARE RE-ELECTED.

The New Teachers-Several Buildings Projected-A Great Deal of Loutine Business Discharged,

The regular monthly meeting of the school board took place yesterday afternoon at a o'clock in Superintendent Slaton's office. President Hoke Smith was in the chair, and the following other members were present: Messrs. Robert Lowry, W. A. Hemphill, J. T. Glenn, W. S. Thomson, Joe Hirsch, A. D. Beatie, George Cassin, J. W. English. W. R. Hammond, W. M. Bray, A. W. Calhoun, Anton Kontz and S. M. Inman.

The superintendent's monthly report was read and filed. The superintendent's annual report, a very voluminous document full of statistics and valuable information, was presented. Because of its great length, however, it was not read, but was ordered to be printed. Mr. Thomson, chairman of the committee on finance, reported approved bills amounting to £18,523.50. It was stated that Superintendent Slayton had collected and deposited for the month $15, and for the year $1,200 for non-residents' tui-

Mr. Beatle, chairman of the committee on buildings, reported that he had purchased a let on Edgewood avenue, 110x350 teet, for $4,340. Upon this lot will be erected a new school building. Mr. Beatie was complimented upon the good bargain he had driven.
The board had authorized him to bid $5,000 for the land. This lot is a part of the old school lottery property which was sold at auction two weeks ago.

The resignations of Mrs. V. A. Witcher, teacher in the seventh grade of the Marietta street school; that of Miss A.D. Fuller, assistant principal of the Walker street school, and that of Miss Lola W. Milner, assistant principal of the Ivy street school, were received and ac-

Captain W. M. Bray, chairman of the committee on teachers, submitted the subjoined report, which was adopted:

The committee on teachers and examinations unanimously and respectfully reports as follows:

Miss Pitts and Mrs. Walsh remain in their respective positions in Marietta and Wallace street schools.

Mrs. Johnson, assistant principal of Ivy street school, to fill vacancy occasioned by the resigna-tion of Miss Miner. The night school at present to remain with four teachers.
Miss Mamie Battle, assistant principal of Walker street school; Miss J. Beerman, promoted to seventh grade.

Miss Ellie Dunlap, sixth grade Walker street

Miss Ellie Duniap, sixth grade values school.

Boulevard school—Mrs. Hill, assistant principal; Miss Lynch, fifth grade; Miss Lynch, fifth grade; Miss Lynch, fifth grade, and Miss —, second grade.

Miss Nina Mitchell, principal Ira street school.

Miss Woods, assistant principal.

Promote teachers from the second grade and Miss Havnes third grade.

Miss Aliher's resignation recommend to be accepted.

Election of Officers. The regular order of business was suspended and an election of officers for the ensuing year was gone into.

Mr. Hoke Smith was re-elected president. Mr. D. A. Beatie was re-elected vice presi-

Major W. F. Slaton was re-elected secretary. All these elections were unanimous.

Other Business Discharged. Mr. D. A. Beatle moved that the committee on buildings be instructed to decide upon a plan for a new eight-room house, and to report at the next meeting. This was adopted. Mr. Thomson moved that the committee on buildings be instructed to look for the purchase of a lot upon which there shall be built a new boys' high school; also to look out for a lot for the new negro grammar school. This a lot for the new negro grammar school. This was agreed.

Mr. Kontz, chairman of the committee on rules, suggested a number of minor charges, all of which were adopted.

On motion of Mr. Glenn, the finance committee was instructed to report to the general council the amount of money necessary for the public schools for the year 1892.

Dr. Calhoun, in behalf of the committee on sanitary affairs, suggested that the ceiling of the Ira street school be whitewashed; that the windows be enlarged so as to admit more light, and that the closets be connected with hgnt, and that the closes of the board that he would appoint the committees at an early day.

Mr. J. A. Hendrix, the only new member, was absent on account of sickness.
At 5:30 o'clock the board adjourned, having wound up all the business for 1891.

R. AND D. REORGANIZATION.

A Report That Messrs. Green and Haas Are to Be Made Vice Presidents.

General Manager W. H. Green and General Traffic Manager Sol Haas were summored to New York a few days ago. Major Green had stop over at Columbia, but New York is the nation of his trip.

Word comes from the north that the general nanager and the general traffic manager are to be made vice presidents of the Richmond

Colonel A. E. Andrews, of North Carolina, who is now third vice president, is to be moved up to first, according to the report. He and Messrs. Green and Haas will be constitated a committee to run the system according to their ideas of railroading. The New York Times remarks that heretofore the proprties have been operated from Wall street. Now, there may be something in all this. While the Richmond and Danville's affairs have been in an uncertain state of late, the ystem is said to be coming out all right. The impression prevails that Mr. Cecil Gabbett will not remain as a division superintend-ent long, but that if he goes in he will be proted at an early date. So it may be that he will become general manager, succeeding Major Green in the event he is made vice Pasident. Major Green has been with the Bichmond and Danville twenty years.

ALBANY WOULD NOT DO IT.

ePlant System Asked a Favor and the Council Declined.

The Plant system has requested the city acil of Albany to ask the railroad commison to suspend its order relative to the new

A few weeks ago the commissioners went down to Albany and after looking into the relition of the citizens for a better depot, gave the railroads until Janary 1st to say what they would do. The Plant system would like the commission to wait until the directors can confer with the citizens of Albany in March.

The city council declined to ask the commission to relent. Albany wants a union depot as soon as one can be built.

Corinne Coming Next Week. Corinne Coming Next Week.

Next week Atlanta will be given an extraordinary attraction in the coming of the famous comic opera star, Corinne. She comes, of course, under the management of her mother, Mrs. Jennie Kimball, who is undoubtedly the first lady manager of the land, and the beautiful and talented star is surrounded by a company second to none in the land. Corinne is a wonder. She combines all the elements of the successful comic opera diva and her visit will undoubtedly be a great success.

"A Social Session" Tonight. The manager of this attraction offers for Christmas what he boasts to be the funniest farce comedy of the season, and will open with a matinee today at 2:30 o'clock. He says his performance begins with a scream and finishes in a roar, laughter being too mild to express the morriment of the andlence.

THE TWO SOLDIERS

Laid to Rest at Fort McPherson Yesterday Morning.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES OVER BOTH.

The Various United States Companies Turn Out in Funeral Procession Laid Side by Side.

Yesterday was a solemn day at Fort Mc-The fort was never the scene of a sadder Christmas eve.

Two of the soldiers' comrades, both of them fondly esteemed by every one, were laid side by side beneath the sod. The funeral took place in the morning at 10:40 o'clock. Services over the bodies of Private William Daly and Corporal Thomas D. Wheeler, who died on Wednesday, were held at headquarters, in the pretty little chapel. First, the funeral exercises in memory of Private Daly took place. He was a life-long Catholic, and Father Schadewell officiated very impressively. There were present more than could be comfortably accommodated, and all listened with bowed heads.

Corporal Wheeler was a Methodist, and Dr. W. Lee conducted the services over him in the solemnest manner.

Accompanied by the entire barracks enlist-

Accompanied by the entire barracks enlistment, the bodies were carried to their last resting place. Bandmaster George Lavellec, with twenty-four pieces, preceded, playing a march. To this 275 soldiers, in their different companies and ranks, kept step, forming a large funeral procession. Friends of the two deceased soldiers followed with them.

The march was an unusual solemn one, and on the rare occasion of paying the last sad rites to two comrades, it was doubly affecting. At the burial ground in the western end of Fort McPherson, the procession halted. The bodies were lowered with the accustomed ceremonies, placed side by side, and the respective companies to which the men belonged fired each three salutes over the graves.

Then five heavy guns were fired and a flag soor floated at half-miast. The soldiers reformed and queetly returned.

William Daly was in his second enlistment. He was born thirty-two years ago in Cork, Ireland, and at the time of his death was private of Battery C, Flyurth artillery. He had been sick for three months at the post hospital, where he died early Wednesday morning at 2:20 o'clock.

Thomas D. Wheeler was a native of Red
Hook, N. J., but a short while ago he was promoted to the rank of corporal of Battery G, Fourth artillery. He was twenty-eight years of age and very intelligent and promising. Wheeler had been ill with the grip for several days. He started to go down stairs and his fatal fall was undoubtedly due to his weak and dizzy condition. He never regain consciousness.

Both men were well known and equally well esteemed and they will long be reunembered with honor. Their loss will be felt by both officers and fellow soldiers.

Persons suffering from sick headache, dizziness, nausea, constipation, pain in the side, are asked to try one vial of Carter's Little Liver Pills.
